Summarized Each Sunday Beginning tomorrow, The Constitution will publish every Sunday a review of the news of the world for the seven preceding days, written by Henry W. Bunn, one of America's leading journalists.

Every well-read man desires to keep in touch with important world developments, especially in this period of storm and stress, yet very few find this possible. The Constitution's Sunday reviews are intended to provide this opportunity by giving the outstanding events of the week's news in such clear and concise form that they may be grasped in ten minutes' reading.

These articles, saved and pasted in a scrapbook, will provide an excellent current history of the world.

The author of these articles holds the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy from Yale university. He has traveled extensively in Europe and the Far East. He served in the Philippines in "the days of the empire," and was a lieutenant colonel during the great war. Attached to the military intelligence department, he there had exceptional opportunity for intimate touch with recent world affairs. A student of history, biography and literature, since his retirement from active duty he has contributed to the Weekly Review a weekly page entitled, "What the World Is Doing," and has made contributions to The New York Times Sunday edition and The New York Evening Post Saturday edition, which Introduce Measure Providing for Appointment of All Judges.

JUDGE COBB CONDEMNS PEONAGE CONDITIONS

Declares Enough Has Developed to Besmirch Good Name of State and Urges Correction.

Declaring there is a growing sentiment in Georgia to remove the seection of judges and solicitors from politics, Senator Frank C. Manson, of the Thirty-fifth district, announced Friday night that he will introduce at the next session of the general assembly legislation designed to place the appointment of all such officials in the hands of the supreme court, court of appeals, the governor and the senate. Simultaneously, Judge Andrew J. Cobb, one of the most prominent jurists in the state, issued a statement to The Constitution, calling attention to alleged peonage conditions and lawlessness in the state, and strongly indorsing Governor Hugh M. Dorsey's recommendation that a state constabulary be established and the labor contract law be abolished at the next session.

Senator Manson has been making a careful study of conditions relatng to his proposed bill since his election in November. While he as not yet drafted the measure, he plans to have the supreme court and court of appeals select five men for the judgeship and the same number for the position of solicitor from practicing before the two courts. and their names would be forwarded to the governor.

Assured of Support.

The chief executive would then apoint one man for each office from hese selections, subject to ratification by a two-thirds vote of the senate, according to the senator's rants are presented for payment ANNOUNCED FRIDAY plans. After discussing the proposed measure with a number of prominent attorneys and citizens throughout the state, Senator Manson stated that he has been assured of the active support of practically every one.

The fight on the legality of the bonds was based on the grounds that the special election was conducted illegally and that the statute was violated when women were allowed to vote upon payment of a $1 registration fee. It was also claimed by the intervenor that constitutional amendments passed in 1918 made illegal any bond election held at any time except at a general election.

Exhaustive arguments were made by Judge Arthur G. Powell and of by popular vote, M. L. Brittain, by Judge Arthur G. Powell and Robert B. Blackburn against the validation. while City Attorney James L. Fitzgerald, Ga., May 6.—The first event in the "better fellowship" program of the chamber of commerce for the business people of Fitzgerald was a luncheon at the Lee Grant hotel. Thursday, at which about twenty business men heard a short talk by Dr. B. F. Fraser, pastor of the Wesley Memorial church of Atlanta, who is conducting a series of revival services at the Central Methodist church here.

The luncheons will be held each Thursday afternoon during the summer, and possibly longer than that, alternating between the Lee Grant and Aldine hotels. Some out-of-town man of prominence will be invited to make a fifteen-minute talk each week.

The republican state central committee consists of ninety-four members, and seventy-two of these were present at Friday's meeting, which, in an ex parte proceeding, summarily disposed of the accused officials and made formal substitution.

Rev. C. A. Doyle, a colored preacher of Gainesville, was elected a member of the committee. E. W. R. Gunn was named treasurer to succeed the treasurer who recently resigned. Friday's action against Goree and Karnes was taken, by unanimous vote and not only ousted them from their offices but from the central committee as well.

Goree and Karnes were charged with having offered certain people the right of deciding postmasterships and other "plum" dispensations in districts of the state. Several Georgians testified to actual instances of this at the hearing on the case in January.

At the time the committee first asked for the resignations. Goree threatened libel proceedings against Martin and Davis, charging that the whole affair was "framed" against him by political enemies.

of amateur gardeners by reports emanating Friday from the sanctum of C. F. von Herrmann, government weather forecaster, and from Atlanta seed men, who are experts in the gentle art of home gardening, and it is distinctly possible that a feeling of confident hope will succeed that of bleak discouragement which chill May winds have brought into being.

Mr. von Herrmann's gladsome tidings, in short are: After Sunday splendid growing weather, with little cold, is slated for this section.

bountiful harvests if they are replanted.

March was a beautiful month, but like fortune herself. her smile was fickle and she proved herself a faithless jade to the hearts of home gardeners. Chill winds followed close on the heels of her warming sun, and promising plants withered and went prematurely into the "sere and yellow leaf" stage.

Seed men, however, remind that under normal conditions the first of May is the usual time of planting gardens, and they declare that all plants except white potatoes, onlon sets and English peas will thrive and produce bountifully if planted now. The season is late for the three vegetables named, but luckliy they have been very little hurt by adverse weather conditions. The seed men add that there is ample time to replant injured gardens without losing in yield.

Warm Weather Coming. Mr. von Herrmann does not ex-pect Saturday to show any decided increase in temperature, but he said that Sunday should find the section that Sunday should find the section enjoying something like normal weather, with little chance for much more cool weather.

"A windy disturbance off Cape Hatteras is keeping the mercury down," he stated, "but the northwest is already warming up, an Oregon point reporting 60 degrees Friday, and the warm wave should be here by Sunday. We have had six decidedly cool May days, the lowest temperature being recorded at 42 degrees, whereas the lowest temperature last May was 52 degrees on the nineteenth."

Hundreds of klansmen from all quarters of the United States have been in Atlanta during Thursday and Friday, attending the great ceremonial, and the banners carried by the sections of the spectacular procession Friday night indicated that representatives were present from every one of the forty-eight states in the union.

The parade started at 7:30 o'clock and the first artery paraded through was Forsyth. Later, the solemn-looking line of white-clad figures turned into Peachtree, waiking south and out Whitehall.

The great feature of the gathering of the klansmen here was the gigantic initiation ceremony held Thursday night when 1,000 candidates were admitted to the rises of the order. Colonel W. J. Simmons, of Atlanta, is founder and imperial wizard of the body and in recognition of this, he was Friday presented with a handsome home at 1840 Peachtree road—a gift of the klan. The cost of the handsome estate is estimated at $25,000, and the presentation came as a part of the ceremonial.

It was announced by headquarters of the klan Friday that Colonel Simmons had accepted an invitation to head an organization now being formed in Philadelphia to be known.

A good reputation maintained for years and known only to the few goes down when one act of wrong one members of the committee, Councilman Sims and Councilman Richards, asserted their doubt about the legality of the measure. The legislature is requested to raise the rate this year. The city is threatened with financial disaster and the closing of her schools this fall.

It was pointed out by Mr. Sims that many people have already paid their taxes for this year, and he believed that if action imposing more taxes on them, to be collected this year, would not stand as legal if attacked in the courts.

Although the committee split even on its report regarding abolition of the charter boards, the sentiment of general council had already been expressed overwhelmingly on the question when it recently voted 26 to 4 for their dissolution. The resolution was vetoed by Major Key, and the fight was renewed in council at the last meeting. Authors of the abolition movement are Councilman Fred C. Woodall and Councilman Fred C. Hong Fred C.

those who speak out boldly and condemn. But unfortunately these are few in number. The greater number who do not approve but in their reflection condemn, are silent. The motive for silence in some is fear—fear for life or property or obusiness. The motive for silence in others is a lack of appreciation of the gravity of the wrong to the law and its demonstration. But whatever the motive for silence be, it is difficult to find in it anything that is worthy," asserted Judge Cobb.

"If the greater number who do not approve but in reality do condemn, could be induced to break their silence and speak out what they really feel, no lyncher would again risk himself in the community on a lynching errand. The air would be too pure for a lyncher to breathe. And words of approval of mob violence would die upon the lips of every miscreant who is vile enough to approve murder by a mob which he lacked the courage to join, and the fear of the righteous indignation of his neighbor would constrain him to words of condemnation, although they might not voice the instincts of his vicious soul.

Back to yesterday's brilliant struggle, the work of Pitchers Doyle and Whitehill was the outstanding feature, the southpaw being the best piece of flinging material Boss Moleworth has uncovered on the present invasion, while Doyle finished his first full game of the season. Both were former stars in the South At-lantic league, and the battle of yes-terday was but a repetition of many At Danville 10, Winston-Salem 1.

Whitehill weakened in the ninth, but for that matter, so did the Atlanta pitcher. Both had been traveling at full speed for inning after inning, and it was inevitable that the crack should come. Doyle's followed on the heels of a bad break when Sammy Mayer toyed with a single to center, when he had a good chance to catch a runner streaking for third. An infield grounder produced the run that unknotted the count, and a base hit drove in the second. At Charleston: Newberry colleg 17, College of Charleston 2.

grounder produced the run that unknotted the count, and a base hit drove in the second.

With a two-run lead staring them in the face, the Crackers came back strong in their half, gave out the battle cry and started in to break up the game. "Red" Wingo, who had not hit safely in two previous attempts, began the damage with a double to the right field bank, and Fred Smith followed with a single to right, sending Wingo to third. Whitehill was giving under the strain and the third straight hit off his delivery, a sharp single to right by Sammy Mayer, sent Wingo across with one of the badly needed runs. Smith stopping at second. "Doc" Newton was sent out to warm up at this juncture, and things looked equally for the little southbaw who had performed so brilliantly for Molesworth's cause. Kaufman, with visions of a squeeze play bringing in the tying run, put in Guyon to run for Smith, but Bobby Stow, attempting to sacrifice, bunted foul on his third effort for the first out; Schmidt laced a single through Dutch Bernsen's legs, but Guyon stopped at third, when there was a possibility of him heating the throw to the plate.

Newton was ready for the mound this stage, and went in. Kauffman, who was preparing to pinch, hit for Doyle when he spotted Newton's right-hander strolling to the hillock, changed his mind and ordered Oille Fuhrman in to oblige. The first ball was outside, but ollie bit at the next one and popped a weak foul back of Taylor that the Baronial third-sacker promptly gobbled for the second out. There was a forlorn hope that Ritter would lash out a safety and sew up the struggle but after watching a couple of nice ones slide by. Ritter struck at the third and missed it a block.

Nine hits were chalked up by the Trankmen, as compared to seven for the Barons, but the one bobble made by the Slagtown aggregation was nassed off harmlessly, while the Crackers' lone miscue paved the way for the defeat.

The ninth inning assault, by the Barons was started after one man had been retired. Traynor beat out a slow roller to Ritter for a single and started for second when Clark singled cleanly to center. Traynor overran second, and kept on going when he saw that Mayer had not helded the cloud: Taylor hit to Ritter, whose throw home was too late. -Man wants but little here below, but he wants that little good. At the same time he does not mind saving money

-Here is an Anniversary Sale of men's shirts. They are good shirts. They are worth $2.50, yet the price of them today is $1.69.

-It is all very extraordinary. So far as our knowledge goes, such good shirts have not been sold at anywhere near $1.69 in years.

-The sole reason for the saving is in the fact that we were not afraid of the quantity-3,600—the maker's surplus which he was in a hurry to dispose of in a lump, taking his loss at a gulp.

Excellent colors-fine shirtings, including imported madras in printed and woven patterns. Then there are about 1,200 white shirts, in bedford cords, with ocean pearl buttons and turn back cuffs. Sizes 13 1-2 to 18.

The arrangement of Colonel J. Walkington Miller's next battle program is, to say me least unique. One may turn it upsile down and has when it was right side up. About Kelly and His Home Runs.

Bryan Mack, of Atlanta, gets all excited because Brother Wheatley intimated that all might not be fragrant in the state of Denmark and that perchance there is a dark person in somebody's woodpile, particularly that one located at the Polo grounds in New York city, where George Kelly continues to set the pace in hitting home runs over the American leaguer clouter in chief, the esteemed Mr. Ruth.

He seems to think that Mr. Wheatley is shoving the good old ship of organized baseball on the reefs by intimating that it may not be as pure as leaf lard on the back of monthly magazines.

Now I don't think that Mr. Wheatley has made any charge that there is crookedness in Mr. Kelly's clouting. On the other hand, Mr. Wheatley has suggested that the situation is well worth the utilization of the eagle eye of Judge Landis—and person in somebody's woodpile, paring staff. Fuhrman improves with every game and soon will be living up to the ecomiums heaped on him pefore the season started. The infield is especially strong with Fred Smith being used as a reserve player. His versatility is invaluable. Art Ritter has improved the infield at thousand per cent over its last year's form. With Wingo back in the outfield and apparently a better ball player than he was last season, those troubles are solved. Guyon gives every indication of coming through, Frank isn't going to cut as valuable a man as Eddie Manning adrift with the brief trial he has had under adverse condition. Fred Smith can be used in the outer works in a pinch. Sam Mayer. As far as the pitchers go, John Sugs looks better than ever before in his career. Markle is a finished performer. Plerson will win more ball games than he loses. If he ever gets confidence in his control he will win lots of them.

Two more—or one more—for hurling duty and the Crackers needn't fear anyone.

NO TIME FOR STRIKING. Labor the world over should be are of the false and dangerous counsel to summarily leave positions of employment by going out on strike. Striking is hazardous, and should be resorted to, if at all, only as a last resort under any condition and at all times; but of all times, now is the worst for the success of any strike, because for every man who leaves his job now there are plenty of others ready and waiting to take his place.

The truth of this could not be better illustrated than it has been by the experiences of the men who have participated in the seamen's strike, the order for which became effective May 1.

Reports from all American ports thus far affected by the strike show that steamers are going out as usual, with practically no interruption of schedules, with new crews. In but few instances have scheduled sailings been materially delayed.

Old crews have given up their positions and others, waiting on the docks and eager for work, have stepped into the vacated places. A typical illustration of the situation is afforded in a news dispaich from Savannah reporting the artival of the steamer City of St. Louis and the departure of the City of Savannah, of the Ocean Steamship company.

about to clear from the port of New York for Savannah, says the dispatch, "a number of the crew went on strike, following instructions from marine workers' headquarters, but no difficulty was experienced in recruiting a new crew, and the steamer sailed without any trouble. The Ocean Steamship company anticipates no difficulty in maintaining its regular schedule."

And, the report goes on to say "the steamship City of Savannah left port yesterday for New York with a full crew. The union pro- friend who came to Thomasville to hibition had no effect on the signing of the crew."

The strike injures the striker vastly more than it injures the employer under existing condi- week's time he had picked his doctions, but, more deplorable still, tor, his grocer, his bank, his attorthe worst sufferers are the fami- ney, his fire insurance agent, his les-the dependent wives and children-of the striking workers. picked each and every one from the It is they who feel the most columns of the local paper, verifyminful effect of the loss of the readwinner's job.

Spring has been in the makebelieve business so long that she has much to make up to us. We've pinned faith to her fine promises, time and again, only to be disappointed, and now we look for great and good things from her in recompense for all.

The Sunday crowds, coming in from the terminal street car lines, or in flower-laden autos, bear witness that the woods have all sorts of color schemes and that the flower-show is now at its "brightst best."

May is going to make amends or April's and her own earlier short-comings, so that we'll be willing to forgive and forget. The wildest of the weather forecasters wouldn't risk a cold-spell prediction now!

THE "LIVE ONES."

When the City of St. Louis was ly picked out in any community, for they are constantly doing things to advance the best interests of their towns. Their activities are so broadly helpful one can't mistake them.

In this connection the Thomas ville (Ga.) Times-Enterprise tells an advertising story which has more than local interest, since the moral of it may be applied anywhere.

Says the Thomasville paper-"A certain man in Thomasville recently related a story to us that prove interesting. He had a live and that friend was a live wire and knew that the man that advertised was successful. He didn't ask any questions when he came, but he took the local newspaper. them: with attractive announcements in the daily newspaper.

That was their recommendation to the newcomer-himself "a live wire," as the story states.

The Times-Enterprise rightly revailing at the present time, the says that there is a lesson in this local story which one can't evade: for "the men involved made more business by competition in advertising than their bill for it would amount to in years." To get at the business 'prosperity of a town one has only to scan the advertising columns of its newspapers. And the people shop where the 'live wire" ac vertisers do business.

A government authority says "the people are settling down," and it is suggested that the next go through. But if you will only best thing to that would be a movement to settle up.

MARKET EXPERT REACHES ATLANTA TO AID IN DRIVE

A. A. Elmore, of Spokane, Wash, recently president of the Farmers union of that state and well-known farm organizer, arrived in Atlanta Friday to take a prominent part in the campaign for organization of Georgia cotton growers. He immediately began conferences with leaders in the movement here. Mr. Elmore is a native southerner and is familiar with the problems of cotton. He has been a leading figure in organizing wheat growers of the Pacific northwest and is a firm adherent of the Sapiro plan of co-operative marketing.

Details of the drive up sign up 300,000 bales of Georgia cotton in the movement for co-operation will be worked out at a meeting of the organization committee in Atlanta on May 20.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS Wireless Appeal ROGERS STORE WINDOW

The mystery of how the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Atlanta came into existence came nearer being explained Friday night during a series of addresses in the hanquet hall of Masonic temple, following a dinner given that evening by the rite to the members of the Joseph C. Greenfield class, members and several invited guests, the latter being connected with the working staff of the hospital.

Many charitable people of Atlanta who have contributed to this great work have wondered in whose brain the idea was born, for they knew that unlike little black Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," it couldn't "just grow" of its own second. Forrest Adair, thirty-third degree honorary, who was toastmaster at the banquet, stated in an introductory speech that something over six years ago a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. William C. Wardlaw, was maintaining by donations four free beds at Wesley Memorial hospital for the care of indigent crippled children, the surgical work being performed free by Dr. Michael Hoke.

This charity was taken over by the Scottish Rite bodies of Atlanta, and with the assistance of the ladies' committee located in two small buildings on East Lake drive—the small beginning of what is now one of the greatest institutions of its kind in the country, and the successful working of which has inspired other fraternal bodies to start similar hospitals in many parts of the United States.

Miss Lillian J. Carter, superintendent of the hospital, made a very interesting address on the work done by the institution, and in simple but plain and effectual language drove into the hearts and minds of all present the importance of the work that is being done for humanity. HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatchel die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet in the drinking water will save your chicks from all such diseases. Within 48 hours the sick ones will be lively as crickets.

Mrs. Wm. May, of Rego, Ind., writes: "I was losing 10 or 15 chicks a day from diarrhoea before I received the Avicol. I haven't lost a one since."

It costs nothing to try Avicol If you don't find that it prevents and controls white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or send 52c (includes war, tar) for a package by mail postpald. Burrell-Dugger Co., 100 Coleumbia Bidg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Several farmers who spoke on a motion to adopt the "Sapiro plan" declared that, while it was splendid in theory, they did not believe it would be possible to get any large number of farmers to sign an iron-clad contract for a period of five years to dispose of all their cotton through a single organization. The farmers considered the weakness of both plans to be that no guarantee of aid in financing the crop could be made.

ARREST IS MADE IN $15,000 FUR ROBBERY IN CITY

George Defends
French Attitude

Before Commons

London, May 6.—The speech of the prime minister, Mr. Lloyd-George, in the house of commons apart from a recital of the findings of the supreme council and a minute explanation of the terms imposed on Germany, was, in the main, a defense of his own position against accusations from liberals and laborites of undue yielding to France, and an apology and justification for the French attitude.

The necessity of making Germany's default in her disarmament obligations were placed first in dimportance by Mr. Lloyd-George said, and it must be clear to Germany that she had no alternative but to accept the allied demands. Answering attacks in the French press that he had been influenced by Jewish financiers, the prime minister asserted that two of the bankers who made representations to the freedom and peace of Europe. Atlanta Bank Rate Cut Is Surprise to Street

New York, May 6 .- On short covering Mexican Petroleum ran up 5 a recovery of over 10 points from the low made last week on the Washington dispatches regarding the probable short life of the Mexican oil fields. The tobacco shares were also strong today, and a Lumber of rails, including Norfolk and Western, Lehigh Valley, Rock Island first preferred, Union Pacific were up 2 points or more. However, in the industrials there was unmistakable evidence of profittaking. But the stocks thus sold were well taken. Despite the fact that the large short interest that was outstanding has been pretty well cleaned up, the consensus of opinion today in Wall street was that after perhaps a moderate reaction the upward price movement would be

Like the reduction in the Boston and the New York rediscount rates, the lowering of the rate by the Atlanta reserve bank came as a surprise to Wall street. The reserve ratio of the Atlanta institution, according to today's weekly bank statement, is still down to 46.2. That is a gain of two-tenths of 1 per cent over a week ago, but far below the showing made by other banks. For example, Chicago is now up to 50.3, New York to 55.5, Philadelphia 56.7, St. Louis 58, Cleveland 62.2. Boston 73. For the system as a whole the reserve ratio is now 55.3 against 55 a week ago and 42.7 at this time last year.

Dallas made a gain last week to 40.1, against 38.2 the week before Minneapolis is up to 41.2 against 46.2, and Kansas City to 47 compared with 44.4. San Francisco, which is still up to 54.6, shows a loss of sixtenths of 1 per cent. Cleveland dropped from 68 a week ago to 63.2. Richmond, the only other bank to show a loss, was down 6.01 points

American Smelting passed its dividend today. This is the first time since 1904 no dividend has been declared. From 1909 to 1916, 4 per cent was paid, from 1916 to March of 1919 the annual rate was 6 cent. Since the date last named 1 per cent has been paid quarterly.

Dividend Passed Due to Low Selling Prices.

After the meeting President Guggenheim stated that the dividend had been passed because partly of the low selling prices of metal, all of which, with the exception of Lead, which has just been increased, are selling at pre-war levels. He added that many mines had been closed down, with orders running at greatly reduced output; that wages had been cut on the average 20 per cent; that every available economy was now in force; that too pessimistic view of the future should not be taken, because demand was bound to catch up with

From Manchester, England, it was cabled that the Master Cotton Spinners' federation had just decided to cut wages 30 per cent. This will give our mills and their employees something to chew on. But in this connection it is encouraging that labor in the building trade throughout the country is considering asking for a reduction in wages, despite the agreement now in force, William Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, declaring, after a conference at Cincinnati: "We want to be fair and se) building boom." He said the unions were willing to accept any equitable wage adjustment that will be fitting, in view of any reduction in the cost of living.

According to today's government figures, at the end of April there had been an increase of 0.4 per cent in the numbers of unemployed throughout the country compared with the figures at the beginning of

The general belief was that in April there was a decrease. Washington also sent out figures on our oil exports for the month of March, which were the smallest in quantity for any month since September of 1918, with the exception of September of 1920. The high record monthly exports were made in December of 1920 at 320,000,000 gallons, valued at $62,000,000. For this March there were only 225,000,000 gallons sent out, valued at $36,000,000, against 257,000,000 gallons in March of 1920, valued at $46,000,000. This decrease, the first for the year, compared with 1920, amounts to 10 per cent in quantity

Railroads Offer Remarkable Statement.

A remarkable statement of earnings is reported by 181 railroads, representing 90 per cent of the mileage in the country, for the month of March. It will be recalled that for January of this year the carriers failed by $958,000 to earn their bare operating expenses and taxes, to say nothing of fixed interest charges and dividend requirements. For February there was an operating deficit of no less than $7,378,000. The figures now at hand for March covering 221,000 miles of the total 238, 0 miles operated show net operating income of $28,292,000. This is not only a striking improvement over the first two months of this year, but compared with March of 1920 there is a gain in net income of 132

Gross for March amounting to $434,000,000, shows an increase of only one-tenth of 1 per cent compared with the corresponding period of last year. However, there was a slashing of 5 per cent in operating expenses. This applied to $434,000,000 accounts for the striking gain made in net income

This can only mean that the railway situation is rapidly changing for the better. The number of men, which was increased largely under federal control, an evil that can always be expected to accompany government operations, has been greatly reduced. The men who have been fortunate enough to hold their jobs have gone to work. This, o, is according to known laws governing human conduct. And the charges of inefficiency brought by labor leaders who are fighting the proposed reduction in railway wages, have also resulted in good. There is not the slightest doubt but that the senate investigation of the railroads to start next week, which is going to take up these charges against the managements, will bring forth some interesting disclosures, the final result of which will be still lower operating costs.

A follower to the story coming from Washington that railway labor has already agreed to a cut in wages is that in return for this agreement Washington is going to make a drive to get down the cost of living. High retail prices will be broken by dumping goods held in storage by the government. And the bankers throughout the country carrying loans against large inventories will help along the good work

New York, May 6 .- The cotton | Further private crop reports have market has shown increased activity and a general steady undertone during the past week. The continuance of the British coal strike and uncertainty of an agreement on reparations has had a restricting effect on commission house business. mance of the British coal strike and uncertainty of an agreement on reparations has had a restricting effect on commission house business, but some broadening of Wall street interest has been reported. This is believed to have been encouraged by easier money, the firmness of foreign exchange rates and reports of improving general business conditions while the advance in prices has also been promoted by further delays in the new crop start and reports of an improved spot demand. by easier money, the firmness of foreign exchange rates and reports of improving general business conditions while the advance in prices has also been promoted by further delays in the new crop start and reports of an improved spot demand.

Some irregularity was caused by hedge selling and realizing above the 13-cent level for July contracts, and buying was slowed up to some extent by the appearance of more favorable weather conditions in the south west and part of the hedge selling reported in futures here toward the end of the week was believed to have been down the southwest and part of the hedge selling reported in futures here toward the end of south.

The best prices of the week on old crop and early new crop delivery was reached during today's trading, when reports from London indicated better prospects for a settlement of the coal strike, and the firmness of foreign exchange promoted hope that the question of reparations would soon be disposed of.

New York, May 6.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

A year has elapsed since the economic readjustment began to gather momentum, and the process is yet to be completed. Forces of rehabilitation are now operative, however, and the general outlook is better. Gains are not easily achieved and none at all appear in some quarters, but the price and wage revision and the easing in money are factors making for further improvement in conditions. The strengthening of sentiment, upon which business recuperation so largely depends, has continued, and confidence in a gradual revival of activities finds more frequent expression. Recovery has come first in those trades and industries which were the first to react from the boom of the war years and afterward, and in isolative transpose senough demand development.

vival of activities finds mbre frequent expression. Recovery has come first in those trades and industries which were the first to react from the boom of the war years and afterward, and in isolated instances enough demand developed to bring a rally in prices. That such a phase remains the exception is demonstrated by the continued excess of declines in wholesale quotations.

New York, May 6.—The stock market made further forward strides today on a volume and variety of operations which approached the maximum business of any session thus far this year, but reacted variably at the finish. Sales amounted to approximately 1,150,000 shares.

The day's news was sufficiently constructive to discourage resumption of short selling, where it did not actually compel covering of existing contracts.

Passing of the quarterly dividend on American Smelting common was almost the sole adverse development of the day.

Because of recognized conditions in the metal industry, however, the effect was not pronounced.
Further reduction of rediscount rates by federal reserve banks and the opinion of Secretary Mellon that the country had passed the stage of liquidation confirmed the more hopeful advices received by leading financial interests.

The strength and prominence of rails, which again led the movement at advances of 1 to 5 points constituted the most reassuring feature of the trading and probably presaged the early adjustment of wages and freight rates.

Oils, especially the Mexican division, displayed consistent strength and some shippings were benefited by the rise in rails. Sugar caused approaches a sugar caused approaches a sugar caused approaches and the rise in rails. Sugar caused approaches and freight rates.

Domestic money rates were unchanged, but foreign remittances were active especially the French and Belgian rates, these rising to highest quotations since the close of the war. The British rate eased slightly, but Dutch and Italian bills were sustained by demand for francs.

Southern Mill Stocks | WHEAT BOOSTED QUOTED BY BY CROP ANXIETY

Chicago, May 6.—Anxiety over the crop outlook in the southwest and in regard to scantiness of supplies at terminal markets led to a new buige today in the price of wheat. The finish, although unsettled, was 2 to 4c net higher, with May $1.48 % to $1.48 %, and July $1.17 to $1.17 %. Corn gained %@%c to %c; oats % to 1c, and provisions 10 to 80c.

Dry weather in Kansas and Oklahoma added to the misgivings which had been aroused by messages from field experts saying that throughout large districts the wheat crop looked unhealthy, and promised to become worse. The buillish sentiment thus engendered lifted the market to $1.50 for May, a rise of more than 25 cents a bushel compared with prices at one time last week. Rapid fluctuations, however, took place on today's advance, and there was considerable reaction in the final half hour, gossip being current that rural offerings had increased somewhat and that export demand had been checked. Nevertheless, the greater part of the day's advance was held, and the smallness of the visible supply continued to attract notice.

Corn and oats derived most of their strength from wheat, but attention was also given to bullish crop reports concerning oats. On the other hand, it was said Germany would buy Danubian corn after May 15 instead of American.

Provisions were lifted by the upward swing of the markets for grain and hogs.

Sugar.

New York, May 6.—The raw sugar market was firmer, but no fresh business was reported, although there were buyers at last prices of 4.58 for centrifugal, with holders asking more. Raw sugar futures were firmer on covering and trade buying prompted by steadiness of the spot market, and closing prices were at practically the best of the day or from 9 to 11 points net higher. May closed at 3.81; July at 3.91; September, 3.95, and December, 3.90.

The market for refined sugar was unchauged to 10 points lower, with fine granuated listed at 6.30@6.50. The market for refined futures was a little more active and prices were higher on trade buying, with final prices 18 to 22 points net higher. August said at 6.72 and 6.70, and September at 6.80. Closing bids: July, 6.68; August, 6.72; September and October, 6.80.

New York, May 8.—Business in coffee futures was restricted by the absence of official quotations from Brazil, where the markets were closed yesterday owing to the holiday. At first prices here showed a tendency to improve on the more optimistic view of general conditions and after opening 1 to 5 points higher sold 5 to 8 points above last night's closing quotations. Except for scattered covering there was little demand, however, and the market later eased off under reports of easier cost and freight offers. September sold down from 6.50 to 6.45 and closed at 6.44. The general market closed net 2 points higher to 1 point lower. (Pric movement, May selling at 12.84 and October at 13.92 before the end of the morning with the general list showing net advances of 10 to 16 points. At these figures there was increased realizing and selling of October which was believed to represent hedge against cotton purchased in the southwest for shipment to Japan. Otherwise offerings were not heavy but the market was easier during the afternoon, selling off to 12.60 for May and 13.68 for October, or some 6 to 10 points net lower. Closing prices were a few points up from the lowest on renewed covering, although there was a good deal of bearish comment on week-end figures showing very small takings by spinners. The weather in the south showed a general improvement over recent conditions, but crop advices reaching the trade are still emphasizing the effect of the cold wet weather reported during the past month. Eleven more May notices were issued, but were without any appreciable effect. Exports for the day 3.250, making 4.176.633 so far this season. Port receipts 23.088. United States port stocks 1,492.837.

EASIER MONEY BRINGS ADVANCING TENDENCY

New Orleans, May 6.—While the cotton stood at net advances during the greater part of today's session, it plainly was held in check by constant hedge selling and the recessions of the day were just as plainly due to the increasing disposition of traders and spot firms to buy spots and sell futures at the prevailing wide premiums on contracts over the actual stuff. The advancing tendency was due mainly to easier money, continued cold weather in the belt and improvement in labor conditions, both in this country and in England.

Opening higher, the market soon was 15 to 17 points over the close ment in labor conditions, both this country and in England.

Opening higher, the market soon was 15 to 17 points over the close of yesterday, with July at 12.88. This was the high level of the day, Heavy selling met the advance and toward the middle of the day it had the trading months unchanged to 12 points down compared with the final prices of yesterday, July trading down to 12.67. Distant months were under more pressure than the near because of their wider premium over spots. In the later trading, claims by cable from Liverpool that the coal strike would probably be settled within a week caused a recovery back to almost the highest of the day, but hedge selling again increased on the close and last prices were 5 points to 8 points higher than the last prices of yesterday, with July at 12.78.

The reduction of the federal reserve discount rate in this district from 7 per cent. to 6 was considered a favorable development of the highest importance and caused much of the early buying.

In England a like settlement of labor disputes will probably follow.

The lowering of wages, cheaper raw material and lower interest rates at home and abroad will make for an expansion of international trade, especially after the British coal strike and the German reparations matter are adjusted.

New York, May 6.—(Special.)—The market seems impatient and anxious to be active, but the big drawback is the continuation of the coal atrike and consequently putting a damper on the trade and the business in Manchester. (The following is issued by the convention on church co-operation.) The committee on church co operaion made its report to the Evanrelical Ministers' association at the regular meeting of the association Monday, May 2. Rev. W. H. Major, president of the association, in introducing John J. Eagan, chairman of the committee; said:
"In my opinion, nowhere on earth, is there a committee doing as much for the life of a city as the commit-on church co-operation is do-tor Atlanta and the south." Mr. Eagan, in making his report, reviewed the history of the committee, calling attention to its creation by the Evangelical Ministers' association for the purpose of bringing to bear the concerted pow-er of the Protestant churches of At-lanta upon problems of common in-terest too big to be handled by any one denomination. Ministers and Committee.

Ministers and Committee.

"The life and usefulness of the committee," Mr. Eagan said, "depends wholly upon its vital connection with the Evangelical Ministers' association, who speak for the white churches with a membership of 55,000. If that connection were lost, the committee would quickly die. The committee is composed of minthe two committees may talk face to face with reference to problems to face with reference to problems of vital importance to both races." This meeting together of the leaders of the white and nerro races to discuss common problems has become known throughout the United States as "the Atlanta Plan."

Dr. Ashby Jones, who followed Mr. Eagan, in speaking to the Ministers' association, said: "It is our ambition to bring the force of these 90,000 church members in Atlanta to bear upon these problems. We are coming to you through whom alone this job can be done. I beg that, if you are not acquainted with what the committee is trying to do, you will get acquainted with it, and that you will go back to your church, and carry the idea which we have for a united Protestantism for Atlanta. The story of the Atlanta plan has gone over of vital importance to both races. testantism for Atlanta. The story of the Atlanta plan has gone over this entire nation—let's make good on the story they are telling about us."

Dr. Major added: "We cannot rightfully call this work of the committee ours until we give to lt our moral and financial support."

Churches Growing. Final reports to the Evangelical committee on church co-operation showed that the recent revival in Atlanta resulted in 4.233 additions to the 90 white churches and 1.096 to the 81 negro churches, or a total of Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, chairman of the committee on evangelism for the committee on church co-opera-tion, reported that the committee

The program of evangelism will be the special order for the meeting of the committee on May 15, when Dr. Flinn is expected to report for the committee of which he is chairman. The work will be planned to lead up to another campaign in which all of the churches will co-operate next spring.

A Most Vital Question.

The increasing unemployment in the city came before the committee.

The increasing unemployment in the city came before the committee.
The matter was referred to the committee on industrial relations with the request that that committee should get the facts, and report back with recommendations to the whole committee.
The want and suffering growing out of unemployment and the friction caused thereby, make the question one of the most serious subjects before the churches today.
Whatever may be the cause for unemployment, the conditions growing out of it are matters which the followers of Christ must deal with in accord with His spirit and His law which requires those who follow Him to do to others as they would have others do to them. A man who will not work is not entitled to eat. But when men and women are both willing and anxious to work, and begging for work, they should not be forced to begging for forced.

A targe choras chofr will furnish special music.

CALVARY METHODIST.

At Calvary Methodist church Rev. Mr. Kim will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday. At 745 p. m., the paster on "The Maric Boor." Sunday exercises: Epworth M. E. church, south, Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday services will be observed at the 11 o'clock service. Preaching by the past of the followers of Christ must deal o'clock service. Preaching by the past of the followers of them. A man who will not work is not entitled to eat. But when men and women are both willing and anxious to work, and begging for work, they should not be forced to begging for Mork.

o work, and begging for work, hey should not be forced to beg for food.

The committee believes that by getting the facts as to the unemployment situation in Atlanta, some lan may be devised tractive need-ployment situation in Atlanta, some plan may be devised to give needed relief, to prevent needless suffering and to put a stop to the rising tide of bitterness and suspicion.

Cause for Doubt.

If the starving Chinaman seeing his child die for lack of food could rightly question the sincerity of the Christianity that refused or failed to give the child food in time, the jobless man or woman watching their nungry children here in our own land would be doubly justified in doubting the genuineness of the in doubting the genuineness of the Christian who refused to give either Christian who refused to give either food or the opportunity to earn it. So, too, if the blacks and whites cannot live together in harmony in Georgia, we tremendously weaken the force of our missionary appeal. the force of our missionary appeal. The committee of quirch co-operation believes that both of these great problems, that of industrial relations and the one of race relations, can be solved, and will be solved by sane men and women facing the facts together, and dealing with these facts in a spirit of "justice" mercy and mutual forbearance. Ignorance of the facts, jumping at conclusions without adequate information, and fear have caused most of the trouble that has risen in connection with both industrial relations and race relation in the past. tions and race relation in the tions and race relation in the past. The time has come to deal with both subjects in the spirit of truth. Ignorance of the facts gives the designing stirrer up of trouble, who has no regard for facts, a fertile field in which to work. We should all unite to destroy this field by setting and giving the facts to all. The churches should be and will be leaders in this work.

of the incident which led to the dispute being seriously questioned by three members of the fire department. The hearing unexpectedly developed into a trial, and Mr. Pilcher was without witnesses to support his case. The board declined to hold a trial at that time, and a future hearing may be held, at the demand of Mr. Pilcher, to determine the question of veracity. veracity.

How Trouble Arose.

The trouble between the firemen and the city manager arose over the discharge of "Truckdriver O. A. Westbrook. Mr. Pilcher discharged the driver, he said, because he had violated an order by not driving the truck himself. The fireman claimed that the truck was in an awkward position at the East Lake Country club, and that Assistant Chief Hardeman, who was in command, offered to extricate it for him. Chief Hardeman turned the truck around and drove it out of the club grounds. Mr. Pilcher claimed that the chief drove it fully 2.000 feet after extricating it, and that he did not see the chief drive the truck out of its awkward position.

What's in a Color?

Does It Signify Anything? It Does.

A color used in representing a particular article becomes after long usage as symbolical of that particular article, and as distinctive as a trade-mark.

The COCA-COLA BOTTLING COM-PANY twenty years ago adopted a particular yellow for their equipment and vehicles, and have continuously used it. It has been recognized by the trading public as representing COCA-COLA as distinctively as the well-known trade-

For obvious reasons imitators of COCA-COLA in unfair competition have assumed to use the identical colors on their trucks, cases, etc., as well as imitate the color of our goods.

Be not deceived. Every yellow truck carrying yellow cases does not dispense COCA-COLA. Look well, read and spell out the signs-C-O-C-A-C-O-L-A -and inspect the trade-mark if you desire the genuine Coca-Cola. Buy it by name, sell it by name, and watch the profits.

by Benedict Crowell, '91 S, former assistant secretary of war. Walter A. Sadd, '84 S, president of the Associated Southern Yale clubs will preside at the meeting. A buffet luncheon will be served at the New Willard at 1 p. m.

The afternoon of Friday, May 27, is to be given over to sports. At 12:30 p. m., the Yale men will board special cars for Chevy Chase club, where golf and tennis matches have been arranged for the visitors. A dinner and smoker will follow at the club with a number of "stunts." Saturday, May 28 will be given over in part to a reception of the Yale men at the white house by the president. A visit to Mount Vernon will be made, by boat, and a special luncheon will be served aboard. After the return, the party will be given a reception by John Hays Hammond at his home here. Another reception is to be given at the Pan-American Union building.

The meeting will be capped by a banquet at 7 p. m. Saturday at the New Willard hotel, at which the speakers will include President Hadley. President-elect Angell and other prominent men.

"We'll Not Forget," Wounded Veterans IN WASHINGTON Hear Harding Say

Washington, May 6.—President Harding spoke his determination that all possible shall be done for veterans of the war when he visited Walter Reed hospital late

He told his audience, which included men who have been under years, that the nation itself, and congress and the executive, never forget the sacrifices that have been made, and will, see to it that victims of the war will never want for anything that can be done for them. -

It was Alabama day at the hospital, and the Alabama State society had an all-day entertainment for the soldiers. The president.

for the soldiers. The president, with Mrs. Harding, mortored out at dusk.

After he spoke, briefly, he walked among the men and shook hands with them. He had a smile and a cherry word for each, as did Mrs. Harding. Sometimes, though, the president didn't smile—when he encountered a wan and malmed soldier in a wheel chair. He inquired specifically about the cases of many of these.

Bust of President.

The soldiers enjoyed it. Those who were able rose to shake hands with the president or Mrs. Harding. Sam Garamisi, of Brooklyn, private, had a present for the president. It was a plaster bust of the president thanked himself. The president thanked him for it, and complimented him on his work. Garamisi has one leg off. He spends his time in a wheel chair.

"I wish I knew how it were possible, by the wave of some magician's wand, to restore you men to what you were before you went into battle." said Mr. Harding. "but that is not possible. The next best thing this republic can do it to make your lives as happy and comfortable as possible. I want America to do that. It will gress and the executive, and more, in the heart of the nation. You men have made the greatest contribution human beings can make."

The talk of Alabama led the president to recall that a division from his own state of Ohio had trained there, and he told how he believed the war had wiped out all that remained of sectionalism.

All One People.

"We are all one people, with the

All One People.

"We are all one people, with the same aspirations," the president declared. "The same desires for the commonwealth. In the more than half a century that has followed the civil war, the wounds of that conflict have healed. And if ever a seen remained, you grandsons of the civil war, the wounds of that conflict have healed. And if ever a scar remained, you grandsons of the men who went to war in '61 have wiped it out. There is no sectionalism any more."

The president said he took pride in the fact that it was a president from his own state—William McKinley—who during the war with Spain, had led a people at last united under the flag.

The president told, too, of his love for America. "I share with you," said he, "a love for this republic of ours. I believe that under the inspiration of the founding fathers we have fashioned the most righteous and dependable government the world has ever seen."

seen."
The president spoke of a "democracy of opportunity." Wounded men, he pledged, would have themselves restored so that nothing of their opportunity should be lost to Senator Underwood, of Alabama, introduced the president.

CLAIMS COAL STRIKE GREATEST MENACE

London May 6.—"The coal strike is the most serious menace with which civilization has ever been confronted." declared the British lord chancellor speaking at a meeting of the Primrose league Friday. "The organized miners have thrown a challenge at the entire nation in action which has no precedent in any country. It was not a question of wages, but the miners tried to impose their will on the ration—which was not sufficiently cowardly to consent to the imposition."

The lord chancellor characterized the threat of the railway and transport workers not to carry imported coal to maintain the life of the community as a new challenge which the country could not refuse to meet.

"The attempt to fasten upon this which the country could not resuse to meet.

"The attempt to fasten upon this country the blood-stained crimes of sovietism will fall," he declared, hinting that more drastic regulations may be necessary, but that regulation could not be compared to national wounds caused by the strikers.

'Dearest Honey' Letter Denied By Indian Guide

Montreal, Que., May 6 .- "I never in my life addressed Mrs. Stillman as 'My dear honey,'" Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide accused in the Stillman divorce suit as the third corner of the triangle. "I never addressed her in my letters other than in the most correct terms, such as 'My dear Mrs. Stillman."

Beauvais is gettling more and more indiomant since the news of the publication of the alleged love letters upon which James A. Stillman bases his case has reached here.

"Mrs. Stillman is facing the music in New York wonderfully, and she will prove her innocence. Of that I have no doubt."

Asked why he himself did not go to New York and help in the defense, Beauvais said:

"I will go when the proper time comes, ard before this case is over I will make somebody hustle for all this falsifying. I am just aching for the time when I shall defend myself. I am not afraid to face anybody on this or any other matter."

Beauvais now denies absolutely the corner of the triangle. "I never matter."

Beauvais now denies absolutely the authorship of the famous "dearest honey" letter revealed in th hearing before a referee Thursday.

Government Hits Snag In Printing Of Slacker Lists

Washington, May 6 .- The govern ment has begun to appreciate the difficulties in connection with the forthcoming publication of the draft evaders list.

Benjamin Kaufman, of Brooklyn, New York, was included in the list he had failed to report to his draft board.

It was discovered, however, that one Benjamin Kaufman, also of Brooklyn, had received the medal of honor for heroism in the Ar-
